Six Steps to Financial Aid

Visit www.nycolleges.org, New York's 100+ private colleges and universities' admissions and financial aid website.

Choosing where to go to college is an important decision! There will be many options to weigh and choices to make. When you begin considering which colleges to attend, never let "sticker price" stop you from looking at colleges that may be right for you. The key to paying for college is knowing what is available and how to apply for all possible help. Very few students actually pay the full cost of attendance. If you need financial aid to help meet college costs, you are very likely to receive it.

This booklet will direct you to important information to learn about how to pay for your college education.

Step 1

Check with each college's financial aid office to determine which forms you need to file to be considered for all types of financial aid. Every college is different. Get your PIN (Personal Identification Number). If you intend to file your Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) online (it's quicker), you and your parent(s) (if you are a dependent student) must apply for a PIN, which serves as your electronic signature for the FAFSA on the Web. For more information, visit www.pin.ed.gov. Don't wait to be accepted to a college before filing an application for financial aid. File as early as possible.

The most important financial aid application forms are:

- FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) – Everyone applying for federal and most other financial aid must complete this free form. File online at www.fafsa.ed.gov or by mail. To request a paper FAFSA, call 1.800.4.FED.AID.
- NYS TAP Application – NYS residents attending a college in NYS use this free form with the FAFSA to apply for a NYS TAP grant and to request payment of NYS scholarship awards. Complete the online TAP application by linking to it directly from your FAFSA Confirmation Page. Even if you use a paper FAFSA, you can still do your TAP application online. You will be prompted to get a NYSHESC PIN (Personal Identification Number) to "sign" your online TAP application. If you don't apply for TAP online you can request an Express TAP Application (ETA) by contacting the

New York State Higher Education Services Corporation (HESC) at www.hesc.ny.gov or by calling 1.888.NYSHESC. HESC is the state agency that processes the TAP application. The ETA will be pre-filled with information from your FAFSA. If you provide your email address on your FAFSA, HESC will be able to process your TAP application faster. If no email is provided, you will be notified by letter.

- PROFILE – Some colleges may ask you to file the CSS Financial Aid PROFILE form to be considered for college-funded aid (the college's own grants and scholarships). Visit <http://student.collegeboard.org/CSS-financial-aid-profile>. There is a fee for filing this form.
- College-specific financial aid application – Some colleges may ask you to complete the college's own financial aid application to be considered for their college-funded grants, scholarships and loans. Check with each college for applications, requirements and deadlines.

Step 2

Complete and mail the FAFSA as soon as possible after January 1 (of your senior year in high school) to ensure that you're considered for all available funding. If your family hasn't yet completed its income tax returns, estimate your family's income as accurately as possible (from end-of-year pay stubs or W-2 forms). You'll have the opportunity to make corrections later in the process. If you're a NYS resident applying to colleges in the state, make sure you include a New York college on your FAFSA to begin application for a NYS TAP grant. Complete any other financial aid forms required by the colleges. It is very important to meet all deadlines and to keep a copy of all the forms you file.

By filing the FAFSA, you will be considered for:

- Grants and scholarships from private colleges and universities (some colleges may require an additional form)
- Federal Pell Grant
- Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (SEOG)
- Federal Work-Study (FWS)
- Job programs from private colleges and universities
- Federal Perkins Loan
- Federal Direct Loan

Step 3

You will receive your Federal Student Aid Report (SAR) via email after submitting your FAFSA on the Web (recommended). If you file the FAFSA by mail, you will receive your SAR in approximately 30 days. A paper SAR acknowledgment will be sent if a valid email address is not provided. Review your SAR's information carefully. Follow the directions to correct any errors.

Step 4

In the spring (usually March or April), you'll receive financial aid "awards" or "packages" from the colleges that have offered you admission, each with a different combination of grants, scholarships, work-study and loans to help you meet college expenses. Determine your "net cost" by subtracting from tuition and fees and room and board (if you're living on campus) all grants and scholarships plus the total amount of your student loans.

Step 5

Review your financial aid award letters and compare your net costs. Decide which college to attend and let the college know by the deadline they have indicated – usually by May 1. Then, review your financial aid with your chosen college. In particular:

- If federal student loans are part of your package, the college will send instructions about the loan application process. You will need to complete and sign a form called the Master Promissory Note (MPN) in order to receive federal student loans (e.g., Direct Loan funds). Keep track of how much you are borrowing and the loan repayment terms and conditions.
- NYS students attending college in the state: Follow up on your NYS Tuition Assistance Program (TAP) grant. Visit www.hesc.ny.gov to review, and if necessary, correct the data on your TAP application.

Step 6

Make sure you know what you need to do to keep your financial aid, such as required grades and coursework. And, you must apply to renew your financial aid each year – on time – or risk losing it! Check your college's deadlines.

Applying for Financial Aid

File the FAFSA

Complete and mail the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) as soon as possible after January 1. If your family hasn't yet completed its income tax returns, estimate your family's income as accurately as possible. You'll have the opportunity to make corrections later in the process.

Some colleges may ask you to complete the college's own financial aid application to be considered for their college-funded grants, scholarships and loans. Obtain the forms from the colleges, if required, and be sure to meet the filing deadline.

When you file the FAFSA you will be considered for:

- Grants and scholarships from private colleges and universities (some colleges may require an additional form)
- Federal Pell Grant
- Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (SEOG)
- Federal Work-Study (FWS)
- Job programs from private colleges and universities
- Federal Perkins Loan
- Federal Direct Loan

The information you supply on your FAFSA is analyzed using a federal formula, established by Congress, to assess your family's financial situation. The analysis considers your family's income and assets (about 5.6 percent), many expenses, the size of the family and parents' need to save for retirement. In addition to establishing your eligibility for the programs bulleted above, the results of the analysis will estimate how much you (Student Contribution) and your parent(s) (Parent Contribution) can reasonably contribute toward college costs for the year, no matter the cost of college. This is known as the Expected Family Contribution (EFC).

The federal formula used to determine your EFC is complex. As every family is unique, use the chart at right as a general guide.

The colleges you list on your FAFSA will receive your EFC analysis and put together a "financial aid package" to help you meet your financial need. See pages 4-5 for more about financial need and financial aid packages.

Facts about the Expected Family Contribution (EFC)

- For federal financial aid, your EFC is calculated in the same way at each college and will not change regardless of the price of the college you choose.
- The Parent Contribution for federal financial aid is calculated using a national formula that considers income, taxes paid, family size, savings, certain assets, certain debts, number of children in college and the age of parent(s).
- The EFC figure may be pushed higher or lower with variations in other factors (for example, if just one parent works, the age of the older parent, the size of your family).
- The Parent Contribution is roughly divided by the number of children attending college at least half time.
- Colleges may consider special financial hardships. Document extraordinary circumstances that affect your family's ability to contribute and submit a written explanation directly to the financial aid office.

Always apply for aid

Even if you think you're not eligible for aid or did not receive aid for a prior year, apply. Financial aid programs and family situations can change. Don't limit your choices now or in the future.

More than 8 out of every 10 students receive financial assistance to attend college.

Each year, New York's Independent Sector provides to students more than $3.3 billion in institutional grants and scholarships.

Sample Expected Family Contribution (EFC) for College Costs Calculated from the FAFSA

Net worth (assets minus what is owed against these assets; home equity is not considered)	Up to $43,900		$80,000
	4	5	4	5
Family size (both parents working)	4	5	4	5
Number in college	1	1	1	1
Total income before taxes	EFC	EFC	EFC	EFC
$0 - $25,000	$0	$0	$0	$0
$30,000	$0	$0	$0	$0
$40,000	$903	$0	$903	$0
$50,000	$2,429	$1,388	$3,375	$2,333
$60,000	$4,035	$2,914	$5,232	$3,926
$70,000	$6,087	$4,625	$7,680	$5,940
$80,000	$8,802	$6,844	$10,821	$8,598
$90,000	$11,714	$9,491	$13,733	$11,510
$100,000	$14,503	$12,280	$16,522	$14,299
$110,000	$17,293	$15,070	$19,312	$17,089
$120,000	$20,371	$18,148	$22,390	$20,167

Based on 2013-14 federal methodology; parent age 45; two parents working.

NOTE: EFC is lower if family size is larger, if number in college is greater (with two in college roughly half the EFC per child), if two parents are working, or if parent is older than 45 years of age.

Your College Aid Packages

Your bill from the college you choose to attend will include the direct costs of tuition, required fees, housing and a meal plan (if applicable). The other costs in the COA, the estimated indirect costs associated with attending the college for the academic year (travel, books, and personal expenses), you will pay as needed. Be sure to include these estimates in your college comparisons.

What is financial need?

Financial need is the difference between a college's annual COA and your expected family contribution (EFC). As every family is different, with a different EFC (see page 3), each college will calculate a unique package for every student. Since college costs vary, the packages you receive from the colleges that accept you for admission will all be different.

$ Annual College Cost of Attendance (COA)

– $ Your Family's Expected
Contribution (EFC)

= $ Your Financial Need

Families in the sample packages on the next page have one child in college. If, however, your family has two children in college rather than one, your calculated EFC will be divided roughly in half between the two children. Remember that for federal aid, the EFC is calculated in the same way and will not change regardless of the college cost. The EFC figure may be pushed higher or lower with variations in other factors (for example, if just one parent works, the age of the older parent, the size of your family).

In addition to the EFC, other variables may come into play in the composition of a college's financial aid package:

- the amount of money available for aid at the college – some colleges have greater resources than others;
- a student's special talent or academic ability – some colleges will award students merit-based aid for special strengths or talents;
- grants or scholarships from other sources (e.g., state grants or scholarships, private scholarships or awards).

Financial aid packages

Private colleges with traditional deadlines will begin mailing financial aid awards in the spring. Every financial aid award letter will be different. When you receive your award letters, evaluate them carefully, assess the direct and indirect costs associated with attending each college, choose the college you will attend, and accept its offer by the stated deadline. If you don't, you may lose it. Notify all the colleges to which you applied of your final decision.

Since 1974, New York's Tuition Assistance Program (TAP) has provided grants to New Yorkers studying full time in an undergraduate program at a college or university in the state helping more than 4 million students achieve a college education. Today, TAP helps more than 310,000 moderate income students meet college expenses.

Building a financial aid package

When the colleges you listed on your FAFSA receive your EFC (Expected Family Contribution) analysis, each college will build a financial aid "package" or "award" for you. Each college's financial aid package will be composed of different types of financial aid to help you cover all or part of the college's cost of attendance (tuition, fees, room and board, books, transportation, personal expenses). The financial aid packages you receive will depend primarily on your calculated financial need (see explanation below) and the availability of funds at each college. Remember, every college is different. Your academic profile and other achievements may influence the size and composition of any merit-based aid in your package. Colleges have very little flexibility in awarding need-based aid.

What is Cost of Attendance (COA)?

A college's published Cost of Attendance (COA) or Annual College Cost is the cost to attend the college for an academic year. The COA is the sum of the following direct and indirect costs:

- tuition
- estimated fees, such as an activities fee and any mandatory insurance
- room and board
- estimate for books
- estimate for transportation
- an estimate for personal expenses

Questions to ask the college

- Which forms are required to be considered for all forms of aid?
- What are your requirements for merit aid? For need-based aid?
- What are the aid renewal requirements?
- What are the financial aid application deadlines?
- Are there state aid programs I should know about?
- When will you notify me of my aid eligibility?
- How will outside scholarships affect my financial aid package?
- Do you have a monthly payment plan?

Elements of a college financial aid package

1. Consideration of a Family's Unique Information

Analysis of the data supplied on the student's FAFSA results in an Expected Family Contribution (EFC) – a calculated estimation of the amount the family can reasonably contribute toward college costs. Income is just one of several variables considered in the federal formula (see page 3 for more).

2. The Family's Contribution (EFC)

2a. The calculated EFC determined from the family's unique FAFSA data, plus

+2b. A minimum Student Contribution from the student's summer earnings, savings, etc. (this will be specific to each college).

3. The College's Cost

The annual Cost of Attendance (COA) includes cost of tuition, estimated fees such as an activities fee and any mandatory insurance, room and board, an estimate for books, transportation, and personal expenses.

4. Putting a Package Together: Family's Need for Aid

The college subtracts the family's EFC from the COA and arrives at the family's need (COA – EFC = Need) for federal financial aid programs, some state programs, and in some cases, for the college's own aid.

Note: Colleges that request another financial aid form in addition to the FAFSA do so to look more closely at the family's financial situation before awarding institutional aid (aid from the college itself).

5. Family's Financial Aid Package from the College

Each college's financial aid package may include all or some of the types of aid below. See pages 6 -10 for more information about these programs.

- Grant or Scholarship from the private college or university (page 6)
- NYS TAP Grant* (page 6-7)
- Federal Pell & SEOG Grant (page 6-7)
- Federal Work-Study (page 8)
- Federal Direct & Perkins Loans (page 8)
- Total Financial Aid Package: Depending on the college and the amount available for grants or scholarships from the college's own funds, the total financial aid package may cover all of the family's need or may leave an amount not met by the aid programs listed above, called "unmet need." If this occurs, there are other alternatives.

*Program for New York State residents.

Sample financial aid packages

The tables below show examples of financial aid packages from different colleges for several different families. You will notice that each financial aid package contains different amounts of aid. The amount of aid awarded in a financial aid package will vary based on a family's EFC, federal and state aid funding levels, and the resources available at each college.

Every package, however, typically includes most of these components: grants and/or scholarship from the college, from the federal government, and from the state; federal work-study; student loans; and other aid. Refer to the left column for explanations of the elements in these packages.

Major Sources of Aid

Financial Aid Programs

Grants and Scholarships

Grants and scholarships from NYS private colleges and universities = $4 billion[☆]

- Aid from a college may range up to $40,000 and sometimes more per year, covering part or all of your tuition, fees and related costs. Eligibility is determined primarily by financial need as calculated from the financial aid forms you completed (need-based awards). Colleges may also take into account academic achievement, or talent in athletics, music or other fields (merit awards).
- To be considered for grants and scholarships from many private colleges and universities, you'll be asked to file the FAFSA. An additional college-specific financial aid application or the PROFILE may also be required. Check with each financial aid office to determine which forms you need to complete to be considered for all need-based and merit-based aid. See pages 12-15 for college contact information. File the FAFSA as soon as possible after January 1. File all other financial aid forms by their specified deadlines.

Federal Pell Grants at NYS private colleges and universities = $483 million[☆]

- Pell Grants are awarded to undergraduate students enrolled full or part time in a degree or approved certificate program. In 2013-14, Pell Grant awards ranged up to $5,645 per year. (See chart on page 7.)

- Eligibility for Pell is based on financial need determined by total income, net worth (excluding home and family farm equity), family size and the number of children in college. To apply, file the FAFSA.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants (FSEOG)

- Funded jointly by the federal government and the colleges, SEOG awards range from $100 up to $4,000 per year to full- or part-time enrolled undergraduate students with financial need who are Pell Grant recipients with the lowest EFCs. Colleges select recipients and determine award amounts based on the SEOG funds available at their college. To apply, file the FAFSA.

NYS Tuition Assistance Program (TAP) grants at private colleges and universities = $232 million[☆]

- TAP is a grant program for NYS residents attending a NYS college full time. In 2013-14, awards for first-time freshmen at private colleges and universities ranged up to $5,000 per year for up to four years (five years for certain programs).
- Eligibility for TAP is based on NYS net taxable income plus state, federal or local government pension income. The chart on page 7 shows TAP awards at selected federal adjusted gross incomes minus NYS exemptions and standard deductions. Note that, if you itemize your deductions, your estimated NYS taxable income will be lower and your TAP award will be higher.

According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, in 2012, bachelor's degree recipients age 25 and over earned 63% more a week than those with a high school diploma.

Grants and scholarships are funds you do not have to repay. They are available from colleges, your state, the federal government, professional and service organizations, private foundations and many employers. Some grants are based on your financial need while others are awarded for academic merit, a specific career goal, special talent or group affiliation.

Work-Study programs provide opportunities to earn money while you're in college by working part time on campus or in the community.

Educational loans for college costs may be made to you and/or your parents. This aid must be repaid, usually with interest. Some loans are based on financial need. Federal education loan programs most often provide the lowest interest rates. These include: federal Direct loans, federal Perkins loans, and federal PLUS loans.

Alternatives for parents and students may include interest-free monthly tuition payment plans, federal PLUS loans, lines of credit, tuition tax deductions and credits.

NOTE: Based on 2013-14 federal methodology; award amounts based on 2013-14 schedule.

- The TAP application process begins with the FAFSA. To apply for a TAP grant, you must file a paper or online FAFSA and list a college in New York. Students completing the FAFSA online may file the TAP application by linking to it directly from your FAFSA Confirmation Page. If you do not begin the online TAP application when you file the FAFSA online, or if you complete a paper FAFSA, you will receive notification from HESC by email or postcard inviting you to complete the online TAP application. You may also request a paper ETA at that time by contacting HESC at www.hesc.ny.gov or calling 1.888.NYSHESC.

Part-time TAP

- Part-time TAP is available to NYS students in the 2013-14 academic year. Students enrolled in a NYS college part time (6-11 credits) who have completed 12 credits in each of two preceding semesters with a minimum 2.0 GPA will be eligible to receive Part-time TAP depending on need. Visit www.hesc.ny.gov, or call 1.888.NYSHESC for more information.

TEACH Grant (Teacher Education Assistance for College and Higher Education)

- TEACH is a federal grant providing up to $4,000 per year to eligible students attending a participating institution who intend to teach in a public or private elementary or secondary school that serves students from low-income families. For more information, visit www.studentaid.ed.gov and search for "TEACH Grant."

Scholarships from private sources

- Grants and scholarships are available from many community and private organizations. Check with your school counselor, public library, employer, Chamber of Commerce, union, church, community and special-interest organizations.

Major Sources of Aid

Financial Aid Programs

Student Loans

Federal Direct Loans

- Depending on your financial need and status as a dependent or independent student, there are two types of Federal Direct Loans with varying interest rates and borrowing limits:
 - Subsidized Direct Loans are available only for undergraduate study. Loans first disbursed between July 1, 2013 and June 30, 2014 have a fixed interest rate of 3.86% for the 2013-14 academic year. The interest on Subsidized Direct Loans is based on a student's financial need as calculated from the information on the FAFSA. There is no income cutoff as long as you demonstrate need. Students who receive a Subsidized Direct Loan disbursed between July 1, 2012, and July 1, 2014, will be responsible for paying any interest that accrues during the six-month grace period after the student graduates or leaves the college or university. Please see the table on page 9 for more information.
 - Unsubsidized Direct Loans have a fixed interest rate of 3.86% (for loans first disbursed between July 1, 2013 and June 30, 2014) and are not based on financial need. Undergraduate students must exhaust their Subsidized Direct Loans (if eligible) prior to using unsubsidized loans. The interest on Unsubsidized Direct Loans accrues while the student is enrolled in college, although payments can be deferred until after graduation.
- Undergraduate students may borrow up to $31,000 in Direct Loans, of which no more than $23,000 may be Subsidized. Graduate and professional students may borrow up to $138,500, of which no more than $65,500 may be from Subsidized undergraduate Direct Loans. Borrowing limits for students in medical school are higher.
- Repayment begins six months after you're no longer enrolled at least half-time. See the table on page 9 for both annual and aggregate (total for your academic career) Direct Loan limits for undergraduate and graduate study.
- To apply for federal student loans, students must first complete the FAFSA.

Federal Perkins Loans

- In 2013-14, undergraduates could borrow up to $5,500 per year; up to $27,500 total for undergraduate study. Graduate/professional students may borrow up to $8,000 per year. The maximum total for all years of study is $60,000. The federal government will pay the fixed 5% interest until you begin repayment. Repayment begins nine months after you are no longer enrolled at least half time (up to 10 years to repay). Exceptional financial need and the availability of funds determine eligibility. To apply, file the FAFSA.

Alternatives for Parents and Students

Federal PLUS loans

PLUS Loans for parents of dependent undergraduate students

- PLUS is a federal loan program where parents and/or stepparents may borrow up to the cost of attendance, less other financial aid, each year for each undergraduate dependent child enrolled at least half-time. Eligibility is not based on need but parents must have acceptable credit history or an eligible co-signer. PLUS Loans can be used to meet the calculated family contribution.
- The interest rate is fixed at 6.41%. Repayment begins upon disbursement, and borrowers may have up to 10 years to repay. Interest may be tax deductible.
- Check with the college for application procedures.

PLUS Loans for graduate and professional degree students

- Graduate and professional degree students may borrow through the PLUS Loan program up to their cost of attendance minus other aid. Students must have first applied for maximum loan eligibility under the Direct Loan program and must have acceptable credit history.
- To apply, students complete the FAFSA and a Direct PLUS Loan application. Check with the college for loan application procedures.

Work-Study

Federal Work-Study program (FWS)

- Eligibility is based on financial need. Students usually work 10 to 15 hours per week during the academic year. To apply, file the FAFSA.

Job programs from private colleges and universities

- Check with the college's financial aid office for on-campus job availability.
- Community service jobs are also available for work-study students.

Changes in Federal Student Aid eligibility

- Eligibility criteria for Federal Student Aid for students who enroll in college after July 1, 2012, have changed. Students enrolling after July 1, 2012, must show that they qualify for higher education by:
 - Having a high school diploma or recognized equivalent such as a General Education Development (GED) certificate, or
 - Completing a high school education in a home-school setting approved under state law.
- After July 1, 2012, the following are no longer acceptable to establish eligibility for Federal Student Aid:
 - A passing score on an approved ability-to-benefit test,
 - The completion of six credit hours or equivalent coursework toward a degree or certificate, or
 - federally-approved standards established by a student's state of residence.

Interest-free monthly payment plans

- Interest-free, insured, monthly installment plans are available at many colleges for payment of tuition, fees, room and board and other expenses. Generally, 10- or 12-month payment options are available at no interest. Check with the college.

AmeriCorps

- AmeriCorps is a federal volunteer program; participants serve for 10 to 12 months. At the completion of service, full-time participants receive an education award that is equivalent to the maximum value of the Pell Grant for the award year in which the term of service is funded. The voucher may be used to pay off qualified student loans or pay for future education expenses at qualified schools. For more information call 1.800.942.2677, or visit www.americorps.gov.

Federal Tax Incentives

- The Federal government offers tax credits and deductions to families and students with qualifying education expenses, including tuition and related fees, books and other required course materials paid for higher education. Interest paid on qualifying student loans may also be deducted to reduce the amount of your income subject to tax by up to $2,500. For more information, contact your tax advisor.

New York State college tuition tax credit/deductions

- New York State taxpayers may take either a:
 - 1) tax credit or an itemized tax deduction for college tuition expenses at an in-state or out-of-state institution for their dependent's, spouse's or their own undergraduate study; or,
 - 2) itemized deduction for qualified college tuition expenses up to a maximum of $10,000 for each eligible student.

For more information consult your tax advisor or go to: www.hesc.ny.gov and search for "tuition tax credit."

New York's College Savings Program

- Start a college savings program with a minimum $25 deposit. You need not be a NYS resident, although NYS taxpayers can receive a NYS income tax deduction for contributions up to $5,000 annually (up to $10,000 for married couples filing jointly). Qualified withdrawals are exempt from state and federal income taxes. Savings may be used to meet college costs at any eligible college or university. For details: 1.877.NYSAVES or www.nysaves.org

With grants, scholarships and other aid money, private colleges are often no more expensive – and sometimes less costly than state colleges.

Ways Your Aid May Change

Financial aid counselors see it all the time: a student loses his or her financial aid and has no idea why. Financial aid – whether it is loans, scholarships or grants – usually comes with strings attached. It is important to keep on top of your grants, scholarships and loans – and understand what is required to keep your awards. Here are the most common ways students lose or will see changes in their aid from one year to the next.

- 1 Not showing adequate progress toward your degree.
- 2 Not maintaining at least a 2.0 GPA overall – not just in your major.
- 3 Not finishing at least 70 percent of the classes you take.
- 4 Not knowing all of the conditions of your aid. Some stipulations to maintain aid go beyond these minimums.
- 5 Your family's financial situation changed resulting in a higher Expected Family Contribution (need-based aid).
- 6 Your sibling(s) graduated from an undergraduate program.

Veterans Education Benefits

For veterans with active duty service, there are a number of programs available to help with the costs of college. For example, the Post-9/11 GI Bill provides students attending private colleges and universities in New York State up to $18,077.50 per per academic year. In some cases, this benefit can be transferred to other family members. For program overviews, visit www.gibill.va.gov/benefits/index.html.

In addition, several private, not-for-profit colleges and universities in New York State are participating in the Yellow Ribbon Program, a matching program that will cover some or all of any tuition and fee charges not covered by the Post-9/11 GI Bill. For additional information, visit www.gibill.va.gov/benefits/post_911_gibill/yellow_ribbon_program.html.

ROTC Programs

The Army, Marine Corps, Navy, and Air Force offer financial assistance to qualified students. Scholarships may range up to full tuition plus fees, books and uniform; a monthly stipend may also be awarded. Students incur a service obligation (generally for a total of eight years) in return for a four-year scholarship (some three-, two- and even one-year scholarships are available).

The application deadline is usually in December of the high school senior year. For a list of ROTC programs at private colleges and universities in New York go to: www.nycolleges.org (search "ROTC").

Calendar

For students entering college in the 2014-2015 academic year

September and October

- Colleges encourage visits from students and their parents/guardians. It's your chance to "try on" a campus. Use the map on pages 12-15 to plan your trips. Also, ask your school counselor about college fairs in your area. College fairs offer good opportunities to talk with college representatives and start to build relationships.
- Collect admission applications from colleges. Contact the admission offices directly by phone or email.
- Ask your teachers and others for the letters of recommendation you need for your admission applications. Make a list of all admission and financial aid application deadlines!

Sep. 6:	Registration deadline for Oct. 5 SAT & Subject Tests.
Sep. 21:	ACT test date.
Sep. 27:	Registration deadline for Oct. 26 ACT.
Oct. 3:	Registration deadline for Nov. 2 SAT & Subject Tests.
Oct. 5:	SAT & Subject Tests date.
Oct. 16:	PSAT/NMSQT test date.
Oct. 19:	PSAT/NMSQT test date.
Oct. 26:	ACT test date.

November and December

- Explore all financial aid sources, including scholarships from local businesses, organizations, employers, churches, etc. Ask for help at your public library and guidance/college office. Attend financial aid workshops and college fairs.
- Continue completing your college applications. Pay careful attention to the deadlines!
- If you plan on completing the FAFSA online (recommended), get a federal student aid PIN for you and your parents at www.pin.ed.gov. Obtain the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) worksheet from your school counselor or online at www.fafsa.ed.gov. Check with all the colleges to which you are applying to determine if there are other financial aid forms you must complete to qualify for all types of aid. Obtain all required forms.

Nov. 2:	SAT & Subject Tests date.
Nov. 8:	Registration deadline for Dec. 7 SAT & Subject Tests.
Nov. 8:	Registration deadline for Dec. 14 ACT.
Dec. 7:	SAT & Subject Tests date.
Dec. 14:	ACT test date.
Dec. 27:	Registration deadline for Jan. 25 SAT & Subject Tests.

2014

January

- Attend local college financial aid awareness activities and workshops.
 - As soon as possible after January 1, complete and mail your FAFSA, or complete it online at www.fafsa.ed.gov. Estimate your income if you have not yet completed your tax returns. Keep a copy of all the forms you file. Complete and submit all other required financial aid forms. Watch your deadlines! You'll receive your Student Aid Report (SAR) within four weeks after filing your FAFSA by mail; sooner if you complete it online. Review your SAR carefully. Follow directions to correct errors.
- | | |
|----------|--|
| Jan. 10: | Registration deadline for Feb. 8 ACT - Outside NYS only. |
| Jan. 25: | SAT & Subject Tests date. |

February and March

- If you have not already done so, visit the colleges.
 - Start to look for a summer job.
 - In March, many colleges will begin to notify students of college acceptance. See April for more information.
 - New York State students who file the FAFSA online may apply for TAP online by linking to it directly from your FAFSA confirmation page. For more information call 1.888.NYSHESC.
- | | |
|---------|--|
| Feb. 7: | Registration deadline for Mar. 8 SAT only. |
| Feb. 8: | ACT test date - Outside NYS only. |
| Mar. 7: | Registration deadline for Apr. 12 ACT. |
| Mar. 8: | SAT only test date; U.S. only. |

April

- Colleges with traditional admissions and financial aid deadlines will notify you of college acceptance and financial aid packages. Evaluate the offers. Notify all the colleges of your decision or request an extension, usually by May 1. Pay close attention to those deadlines!
- If you still wish to expand your options, some colleges will accept admissions and financial aid applications at this time. Visit www.nycolleges.org/view-college-information for college contact information.

Apr. 4:	Registration deadline for May 3 SAT & Subject Tests.
Apr. 12:	ACT test date.

May and June

- May 1 is the traditional deadline for students to notify colleges of their college choice. If you decline admission and have received an aid package, notify the college financial aid office so it can offer the award to another student.
- NYS residents applying for TAP: Check your email for correspondence from HESC about your TAP award. If you decide to attend a college in New York State, review, provide additional information, or make corrections to your TAP application information as necessary or if requested by HESC. If you applied by mail, review, correct information if necessary and return your Express TAP Application (ETA) to HESC. Be sure your TAP Award Certificate contains the code for the college you will attend. Visit www.hesc.ny.gov for more information, or call 1.888.NYSHESC.
- Follow up on the progress of your grants, scholarships, loans, work-study and other forms of student aid.

May 3:	SAT & SAT Subject Tests date.
May 5-9 & 12-16:	Advanced Placement Program® Exams.
May 9:	Registration deadline for Jun. 7 SAT & Subject Tests.
May 9:	Registration deadline for Jun. 14 ACT.
Jun. 7:	SAT & SAT Subject Tests date.
Jun. 14:	ACT test date.

- Don't forget to send thank-you notes to all who helped you through the college search.

NOTE: Register for the SAT® exams on line at www.collegeboard.org. Register for ACT Assessment® exams on line at www.act.org. Registration deadlines listed here refer to regular U.S. postmark dates. Visit above websites for international deadlines and U.S. late registration deadlines.
