What We're Learning

ELA: Readers' Workshop:

Building reading stamina with individual books.

Writing: Writing a research paper on weather phenomenon's

Math: Students explore strategies for solving multiplication and division facts within 100.

Social Studies: Life in the United States is impacted by geography. The U.S.A. depends on itself and others to fulfill its needs and wants. The U.S.A. has a democratic form of government.

The U.S.A. has many common and diverse cultural elements.

Science: Stormy Skies- in this unit students investigate and make predictions about the weather through careful observation of the clouds and wind. Students also learn to differentiate between weather and climate and use models to reveal global climate patterns.

If you haven't sent in a family picture please think about sending one in.

Your student spends many hours each week at school. I want our classroom to be your student's home away from home, a place where your student feels welcome, comfortable, and safe. A great way to help build this classroom community is including a picture to represent each student. Please send a 4X6 family picture (or any comfort picture such as a favorite pet or person) to school at your convenience. If your student has more than one family to represent, please feel free to send more than one picture.

If you don't have a way to print a picture feel free to send me a picture through email (agarrison@pval.org) or on Remind and I will print it for you.

Thank you for your help! -Mrs. Garrison
